Since the Beatles split up in 1970 the four individual members have hit number one nationally a total of eleven times: Paul McCartney six times, John Lennon once, and both Ringo and George twice. This week in Potsdam, George reaches No. 1 with his current release, "Blow Away". Not far behind at No. 8 is another Beatle, Paul McCartney, who along with Wings has "Goodnight Tonight".

Blondie had a short stay at the top-one week-after its long climb. Possible future No. 1's include "Reunited", a surprising ballad from the duo who previously had "Shake Your Groove Thing", and Todd Hobin Band's "I Hate You", a very big local hit and the biggest request-getter at WNTC.

Other biggies outside of the top ten include "Roxanne", "Renegade", "Feeling Satisfied", "Ain't Love A Bitch", and "The Logical Song". Moving up fast is Rex Smith's "You Take My Breath Away". The biggest song since "Time In A Bottle" to come from a television movie.

What's new? Well, the Bee Gees have another one out and it looks like a ninth number one for them, their sixth in a row and it's called "Love You Inside Out". As that shoots up the top 40, its predecessor, "Tragedy" falls from 11-36.

Orleans had a huge success two years ago with "Still The One" in Potsdam. In fact, it was the No. 1 song of 1976 on WNTC. Their latest should do equally well from the album Forever called "Love Takes Time". Another big hit in 1976 was "I'd Really Love To See You Tonight" by England Dan and John Ford Coley and they have a new single from Dr. Heckle and Mr. Jive called "Love Is The Answer".

Rounding out the new songs are Sweet's "Call Me", Bad Company's "Rock'n Roll Fantasy", and Kenny Rogers' "She Believes In Me."
